

Online Christian Counseling Privacy Consent

This document explains the privacy and confidentiality policies for online Christian counseling services. Please review the following information carefully before proceeding with counseling sessions.

Confidentiality

- Your information shared during counseling sessions is kept confidential.
- Records of your counseling sessions will be stored securely and accessed only by your counselor.
- Counseling staff will not disclose anything discussed except under the following circumstances:
 - There is a risk of harm to yourself or others.
 - There is suspected abuse or neglect of a child, elder, or dependent adult.
 - Court subpoena or legal requirement.

Online Counseling Risks

- Online counseling involves certain risks to privacy and limits to confidentiality due to the nature of internet-based communication.
- It is recommended that sessions be conducted in a private, secure location to protect your privacy.

Informed Consent

- I understand the limitations and risks of online counseling.
- I consent to receive Christian counseling services online.
- I understand how my privacy will be protected and the limitations to confidentiality.
